You will need to send (by email) a PDF of the work in the stipulated format.
- 6 All work judged online will also be need to sent in physically (by post). You will need to 1) send the actual work to Japan and 2) send a PDF of the work by email. Both electronic and physical works are required. All work must arrive before the deadline.

More information (for online)

Though the first stage of judging for these five categories will be held online, the second stage (selection of winning works) will be held in-person. The second stage in-person judging will be held less than 5 days after the initial stage; there will not be enough time allowed to send works from abroad. It is for this reason that all works in all categories must be received by post (as per normal).

If you are applying for one of the five categories mentioned above, you will also need to supply (by email) a PDF of the work in the stipulated format. Details can be found on the entry label you will receive upon completing your web entry.

All entries must be entered online. The entry label will be sent to the applicant's designated email address after the online entry form has been completed. Please print out your postal entry form, fill out the essential information with the same details and attach it to your submission.

For On Screen

Each on screen / media work must be previously uploaded to a website such as YouTube, and the link to the work copied and pasted in the online entry form.

We recommend a 16:9 aspect ratio. Please make sure that the movie quality is fit for judging, and the online service you upload the video to allows for downloads. When filling in your online entry, enter the web address of the video in the form. Please make note of any specific directions you have with the work (such as start times and finish times, etc.). Your work will be downloaded for the judging.

- During the examination, all movies will be given a play time of 90 seconds.

If no start and finish times are set, the movie will start at the beginning of your video, play to the 90 second mark, and loop.

- Images and entry labels are unnecessary for video works.

In the case of Websites

To provide an outline of your website design, select 5 pages or less and copy the website addresses of each page into your entry. Please upload a screen shot of the pages you are referencing in addition.

- Entry labels are not necessary for website entries.

Announcement

- Announcement of and entries selected entrants will be notified by mail in November.
- You will be asked to submit data for printing if your artwork is selected. Formats, etc. for submission will be stated with an acceptance notice.

Notes

- Works may only be entered in one category. Please note that the same works, even those in a series of works, may not be entered in other categories.
- All entries are judged by category.
- The entry label will be automatically sent to the applicant's designated e-mail address after the entry has been received.
- The entry label, contained in the e-mail sent by us, can be printed out.
- On the entry form, indicate your category by category number. If you are uncertain of which category your work falls into, leave it blank. The judges will decide for you.
- A series refers to a work planned and created as a set of two or more pieces. It is not merely a collection of individual pieces. The editorial staff will choose which pieces to include in the publication.
- When submitting the same work to more than one category, submit a copy of the work to each category.
- If a mistake has been made in your category entry, you may move to a different category.
- Entry procedures apply to all entrants, regardless of where they reside.
- We do not accept anything framed.
- Before submitting your piece for entry, please make sure to obtain agreement from the parties involved in the work, such as your collaborator, agent or client. If any objections should later arise from such parties regarding work included in Applied Typography, they should be handled solely by the entrant.
- The information you provide on the entry form will appear in the publication. Be sure that everything is accurate, including spelling. They may not be changed after selection.
- Entries will not be returned.
- Entries may also be shown or published in JTA-sponsored exhibitions and other promotional uses.
